LEFT SCHOOL AND STILL NOT ENROLLED? "18 TO 20: POSTGRADUATE STUDIES"

Many of you will already have heard the above words, which convey valuable guidance to that age group, and particularly to recent school leavers. This is an ideal opportunity to remind ourselves of the following extracts:

- Every young person needs an understanding of Accounts, Tax and Law.
- Take up one subject and become an authority on it.
- Set yourself for a career, not just a job.
- It's unrighteous for parents to let their children go to earn their income without being thoroughly qualified or trained in something.

ON TIME

We have been exhorted to be always On Time, Organised, Orderly and Hassle-free. Punctuality is of the utmost importance for a business appointment, but also essential for events such as Seminars, Webinars, Go-To-Meetings and Teleconferences. First impressions count and a poor impression is seldom forgotten. Our image is tarnished by late or disorganised appearances. So, if you need to pull your socks up in these areas, please do so immediately and become a refreshingly different person.

EUROPEAN TIES?

- Are you planning to relocate to the European mainland?
- Do you and your spouse (or spouse-to-be) speak the same language?
- Are you expanding your market into other vibrant commercial areas of Europe?

Whatever your situation, interactive communications and understanding are paramount. Counsel has been given to "Learn 1000 words and 200 'every-day' questions within a year." The door is wide open for you to learn to read, write and speak any European language by enrolling on an excellent course and using the latest audio technology. You should then rapidly acquire the valuable communication skills you need. Effective commercial contacts and closer family bonds are both strengthened by mastering the language. For further details send an email today to oliver.woodcock@ubteam.com.

PRESENTATION OF EXAM SCRIPTS

It has been pointed out by professional examination markers that exam answers requiring prose, whether handwritten or on screen, must contain whole sentences and paragraphs rather than bullet points, abbreviations or 'text speak'. Prose must make sense to the examiner, even though the candidate might know what he/she is trying to convey. So, once again, we are highlighting the Practical English Course as essential for you if you struggle to convey your thoughts and ideas. Email oliver.woodcock@ubteam.com asking for further details.

HANDWRITING

In this 'keyboard-tapping' era, illegible handwriting in exams is a serious issue. There is no point sitting an exam if examiners fail you because they cannot read your handwriting. We can recommend suitable distance learning Calligraphy Courses. For details of courses available send an email to oliver.woodcock@ubteam.com.

HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE

An ever-increasing need for nursing 'know-how' when caring at home for the afflicted and elderly has prompted research into suitable courses to provide the needed skills. Excellent Health and Social Care and Understanding Health courses are recommended, together with courses dealing with specific illnesses such as Autism, Dementia, Diabetes, Human Nutrition and many more. Six of our students are delighted to have recently completed the Health and Social Care course with distinctions, and there are no upper age limits and no prerequisites for those who wish to enrol. Interested persons should send an email to oliver.woodcock@ubteam.com for further information.
